Basic Pencil Sketching

Pencil sketching is a great way to start learning landscape drawing. It's a relatively simple technique that can be used to create beautiful and realistic drawings.

To start a pencil sketch, you'll need a few basic materials:

- A pencil
- A piece of paper
- An eraser

Once you have your materials, you can start by drawing a simple outline of your landscape. Use light, gentle strokes to sketch in the basic shapes of the land, the trees, and the sky. Don't worry about being too detailed at this stage, just focus on getting the overall composition of your drawing down.

Once you have a basic outline, you can start to add details. Use a variety of pencil strokes to create different textures and effects. For example, you can use light, feathery strokes to create soft, fluffy clouds, or you can use darker, more defined strokes to create hard, jagged rocks.

As you add details, be sure to pay attention to the light and shadow in your drawing. The way the light hits your landscape will affect the way it looks, so be sure to observe the shadows and highlights carefully.
